

Cop Couldn't Link Oswald, Dead Man

WASHINGTON — (AP) —

A New Orleans police detective told the Warren Commission he never found concrete evidence to link Lee Harvey Oswald with David Ferrie.

Ferrie, a key figure in New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison's new probe of the assassination of President Kennedy, was found dead yesterday in his New Orleans bed.

The detective, Frederick S. O'Sullivan, knew Oswald from junior high school and was a member of a Civil Air Patrol squadron which Oswald showed an interest in joining.

But he said, "I am not sure of any" when he was asked if Oswald associated with Ferrie at any time through the CAP.
